

WOULD HOLD PARADE

East Side Tenement Dwellers Strike Against High Rents.

RENTS PRACTICALLY DOUBLED

Many Heads of Families Out of Work and Owners of Buildings Relentlessly Evict Tenants Who Cannot Pay—Rather Close Than Reduce the Rents.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The strike against the landlords of East Side tenement houses is growing rapidly. Today the police will be asked for permission to hold a monster parade through the East Side streets some day next week. It is said that if the parade is permitted 30,000 men, women and children will take part in the demonstration. The Socialists, who are at the head of the strike movement, state that they do not expect that the permit will be granted. In case it is not, an appeal will be made for leave to hold a monster mass meeting in one of the parks on the East Side.

Rents in the tenement houses, it is said, have practically doubled within the last three years and have advanced 20 per cent within the last year. To make the bad matter worse, the heads of thousands of families are out of employment now, on account of the cutting down by various employing firms and factories.

Owners of buildings are relentlessly evicting tenants who refuse to pay, as rapidly as possible, and many dispossession notices were tacked upon doors all over the district yesterday and more will be served today. The landlords say that under no circumstances will they make any reduction in the rents and several of them announce that they will close the tenements rather than reduce the rents.

The committee that has the strike in hand has arranged to cure for those who are evicted. It is planned that whenever a family is to be evicted to send them back into the house, the members of the family being distributed among the flats occupied by others who are in sympathy with them.

ONIONS AT A BARGAIN.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Onions were sold at a bargain in New York yesterday. The chief of the seizure division tioneed off 4437 boxes of fine Spanish onions which arrived on the steamship Erika, and on which the consignees declined to pay $880 duty. Spanish onions ordinarily sell at from 30 cents to $1.10 a bushel, but these selects brought only from 11 to 3 cents, the total amount realized being $449.70, only a little more than half the amount of the duty.

DEMOCRATIC HEADQUARTERS.

DENVER, Dec. 27.—The headquarters of the Democratic National Convention will be at the Brown Palace Hotel, which has registered a request from Chairman Tom Taggart, of the committee, through Secretary Mills, of the Convention League of Denver, to reserve 50 additional rooms, besides those already reserved. As soon as those reservations are made, the other hotels will begin to make reservations for the convention.

MARRIES AN INDIAN.

DENVER, Dec. 27.—News has been received here that Miss Cora Marie Arnold, of Denver, was married last Monday at Santa Fe, N. M., to Alberta Chivarro, a full-blooded Indian. The wedding ends a romance which began five years ago during the Mountain and Plains Festival in Denver, when a number of Indians were brought here as exhibits.

PIONEER DEAD.

HELENA, Mont., Dec. 27.—Mrs. Richard Lockey, a pioneer Helena woman, died in Palo Alto, Cal., yesterday. Mrs. Lockey, who was a native of Ohio, was the wife of Richard Lockey, a prominent real estate dealer.

Albert Roeder was down from Skamokawa yesterday on a business trip.

FIERCE HURRICANE WATERFRONT ITEMS

After Tossing On Rough Seas Dynomene Arrives.

330 DAYS ON THE VOYAGE.

Accidents to Sails and Masts Render Ship a Derelict and She is Buffeted About for Months Before Reaching Port Under Jury Rig.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—After a voyage occupying 330 days, during which she encountered the fiercest hurricanes ever felt by the oldest hands on board, the British ship Dynomene reached this port yesterday.

The Dynomene left Newcastle, Eng., Nov. 21, 1906, and met with no unusual weather until getting well down the east coast of South America.

The Dynomene encountered heavy weather when the vicinity of Cape Horn was reached, and by May 9 many members of the crew were partly disabled. It was on May 19 that the Dynomene was struck by a sea which snapped off the bowsprit and started trouble aloft. The fore top gallant yard fell through the deck and nearly killed a man who was sleeping in the forecastle. By May 20 the Dynomene was a derelict. The decks were littered with wreckage that the heavy seas made it impossible to clear. For five days all hands lived in the cabin aft.

After that the work of clearing away the wreckage began, and while superintending this Captain Proctor received a serious injury to his back. The hurricane meanwhile had blown the ship around the Horn. A change of wind carried it back, and after many weeks of hardship the Dynomene was worked under jury sail into Montevideo, where repairs were made.

Captain Proctor was sent home to England with the second mate who also was injured in the hurricane, and the ship resumed its voyage in command of Captain Barr.

The Dynomene occupied 92 days on the passage here from Montevideo.

Doings in the Harbor Among the Vessels.

The Breakwater and Alliance Arrive in From Coos Bay and Proceed up the River—The Elder Crosses Out on Second Attempt—Other Notes.

Yesterday was another rough day on the bar. At 8 a. m. the wind was blowing from the south 22 miles, the weather was cloudy and the bar rough. At noon the conditions were the same except that the wind velocity was 20 miles an hour. At 4 o'clock the wind was still blowing from the south but the velocity had increased to 30 miles an hour, the bar being still rough. Two steamers came in, the Breakwater and the Alliance and the Elder passed out, on her second, the first attempt being a failure.

The British steamer Elgin came down the river at 7 a. m. yesterday and in the afternoon went down to the lower harbor to take advantage of the first opportunity to cross to sea. She is loaded with grain for the Orient.

The schooner Oakland has finished loading lumber at Knappton for San Francisco and cleared for San Francisco, yesterday. She has a cargo of 450,000 feet.

The barkentine J. M. Griffith arrived in from San Pedro late on Thursday night.

The Alliance arrived in from Coos Bay at noon yesterday after an uneventful trip. She was decorated with Christmas trees on the bow, stern and top of the masts and presented a holiday appearance. She discharged 506 cases of salmon and proceeded up the river at 1:30 p. m.

The Geo. W. Elder arrived down early yesterday morning and started for the sea but was unable to cross out. Late in the afternoon she succeeded in crossing out over a rough bar.

The Breakwater arrived from Coos Bay at 10 a. m. yesterday and passed up at 11 o'clock.

The four-masted schooner King Cyrus from San Pedro is reported as being outside. It is said she has had quite an experience most of her sails having been blown away. It is thought that no really serious results occurred from the experience and that she will be in port today.

The British bark Duchalburn with 100,300 bushels of grain, for the United Kingdom is due at any time from Portland. She left there late Thursday.

The British ship Port Patrick with 100,000 bushels of wheat and the French bark Europe with 133,000 bushels have cleared for Europe at Portland and will be down the river soon.

The British ships Carnvon Bay and St. Mirren, and the steamer Craigvaar are in the lower harbor waiting for an opportunity to go to sea.

The Lurline reappeared on her regular run yesterday. She had a good passenger list on the down trip with a fair freight. She had good business up.

The steamer Senator is due tonight from San Francisco.

The barkentine Wrestler arrived at San Francisco yesterday from the Columbia river.

The British bark Jordanhill sailed from Callao, for Portland, on December 23rd. On her arrival, about two months hence she will load with lumber for a foreign port.

The steamer Aurelia left San Francisco yesterday for Astoria and Portland.

PROBABLY A SUICIDE.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The body of a well dressed young man has been found on the property of Oliver Iselin, near Mt. Vernon. There was a bullet-hole behind the right ear, and nearby lay a pistol. The pockets of the man's clothes had been turned inside out and the heels had been pulled from his shoes. The police are investigating, although they are inclined to believe that the young man killed himself.
